[Updated June 2019]

Welcome to the July/August edition of our parish newsletter.

Dear Readers

Over the next few months, we have much to look forward to here in Devon including all the agricultural shows of which I am particularly fond as well as all the music and food festivals. Let's hope the weather brightens up to make them extra special.

You've got to be in it to win it!

Whilst we are on the subject of shows I would like to draw your attention to our very own Village Show. If you haven't entered before I urge you to think about it. There are classes for every kind of hobby you could imagine from vegetable growing to flower arranging, photography to cooking. There is a vast array of classes and very often the number of entries is not so high so, you never know, your entry may be the winning one!

Butterfly conservation walk

We have also been invited to join a walk and talk on butterfly habitat and conservation organised by our friends at Castle Drogo. See page 14 for details.

Highway matters

As many residents will know trying to get in touch with Devon Highways is nigh on impossible. Even the Parish Council struggle to make themselves heard. So for all those who have voiced their concern about the volume and speed of the traffic on our local roads, Cllr Way has outlined the process for raising awareness.

* Anyone is entitled to report a problem on the DCC Report a Problem website and/or attend the Highways surgeries which take place on the first and third Thursday of the month at Crediton Library.

Cllr Way suggests that the Highways Officer is best contacted by Cllr Way himself so do please contact your elected representative to make use of his generous offer!

Although it is not advisable to take matters into your own hands, I have often been tempted to take a leaf out of Tedburn's book and plant some shrubs in our potholes, at least we can make them look pretty even if we can't fix them!

That's it for now folks, I hope you all have a wonderful summer and we will see you again in September.

A message from Pat Hill

To all my friends and anyone who knows me

Thank you for all your kind thoughts and love following my fall at home, month in hospital, and now living in Coppelia House in Moretonhampstead. After the initial shock of realising I could no longer look after myself and not wanting to be in a 'home', I have now settled in well and am enjoying all the pampering. I feel safe and am very well looked after. I have even been dancing with my Zimmer frame.

If anyone is not sure what it would be like please pop along and visit the home. If you are ever passing I would love a visit from you. Visiting time is 'anytime'. Please contact Sue or Bob Bennett if you need anymore information 01647 24479.

All my Love

Pat Hill

Day trips for July and August

We are back to Tuesdays again!

- Tuesday 16th July 2019: A day trip to Princetown
- Tuesday 13th August 2019: An outing to Roadford Reservoir

The cost will be £5 for each trip. Leaving at around 9.00am and returning back to Cheriton at about 2.00pm.

Please phone the Acorn Office to book your seat on 01647 252701 [leave a message on the answerphone if necessary and they will ring you back]. Once they know who is coming Donna will draw up a plan for times and places for picking up and let you know.

It's first come first served and there are only 11 seats on the minibus! So do book as soon as possible to be sure of a place!

Cheriton Bishop Gardening Club

The Summer Show

We are now getting ready for the SUMMER SHOW which will be held on August 10th in the Village Hall, 2.30 - 4pm. This is really the Village Show that the Gardening Club runs, so anybody living within a 5 mile radius of the parish church can enter as well as the members. There are classes for vegetables, fruit, flowers, flower arranging, crafts, cooking and many children's classes. The schedules will soon be available from the red box outside the Village Hall or can be downloaded from the Village website. There is a Novice Cup for people who have not won a first prize before so there is no excuse for not entering if this is a new experience for you. If you are not sure what is needed then why not come along for a cup of tea and home-made cake during the afternoon and look around.

Taunton Flower Show Sat. Aug 3rd

We are proposing having an outing to Taunton Flower Show on August 3rd. This is a popular show, big enough to see most of it during the day, with plenty of trade and food stands as well as the actual show. Taunton is not too far away so travelling time is reasonable. If we have 13 people wanting to go, the Acorn bus will be £8 each, plus £13 entry fee if booked before July 21st. There will probably be a group discount but until I know numbers I have not investigated. Please leave me a message if you are interested.

Race for Life 10K

21st July 2019

We have spent nearly two months training at a local gym for our third year of Race for Life 10K; we are especially determined to raise as much as possible to support Cancer Research this year. Even though we have always run for our friends who have battled with cancer - both who won their fight and those who didn't - this year we are running for two of our family who lost their battle with cancer in the past year. As expected, it took everyone by shock. From our losses we both want our story to raise awareness for others as well as being able to help others still battling with Cancer.

Every penny makes a difference.

Thank you for all your support.

Dr Clunie's Half Everest Challenge, collecting for Acorn

On the 3rd of August, to celebrate his 54th birthday Dr Jason Clunie will (attempt) to cycle Bridford Hill 54 times: 27 of them up and 27 of them down. In statistics this will be just a touch over 54 miles. The uphill 27 miles will be at an average gradient of 9% (maximum 20%) and encompass a vertical gain of just under 4200metres. Hence the Half Everest Challenge, (the total height of Everest is 8850metres). Those of you who know Bridford Hill might know that it's not an easy climb and so doing it 27 times is at best difficult and tiring and at worst downright silly. So if you feel it's appropriate please give generously for this invaluable local community support service. Both the surgeries are collecting and we are setting up a no fee just giving page on www.wonderful.org which is 100% fee free and so all the donations will go to Acorn. There will be more detail to follow, on our and Acorn website, at the surgeries and on Acorn Facebook page.

Also, if you feel able or the need please feel free to join in on the day. Anyone who would like to keep me company for any of the climbs would be very welcome. I would guess the whole thing would take 9 hours and so I'll be there most of the day!

Thank you very much

Jason Clunie

TALKWORKS to help get your life back on track

Did you know that one in four people experience anxiety or low mood at some point during their life?

We are all sad and worried at some points in our life, but if you notice you are feeling bad more days than you are feeling good, then it may be time to seek help. Many people struggle with anxiety, stress or low mood alone but you don't have to, TALKWORKS is the free, local service to help you get things back on track.

How are you feeling?

Is the way that you are feeling affecting your daily life? Are you struggling to cope, feeling low, worrying more than usual, or finding it hard to get a good night's sleep?

We all feel like this from time to time, but when this becomes overwhelming, when you feel you have to hide how you are feeling, and do not understand what is happening to you, it may be time to get help.

Although it can feel very lonely, it is important not to ignore how you are feeling and hope it will sort itself out – symptoms are likely to get worse if you don't take action. Having depression or anxiety is like a physical health condition, and it can be successfully treated.

We can help.

TALKWORKS is a free, confidential, NHS talking therapy service, offering effective treatments and therapies for anyone over 18 with a GP in Devon. We can offer an initial appointment either over the phone or face to face where we will listen to you and discuss your difficulties and your options for therapy.

Within our service we can offer you one-to-one appointments, either face to face or over the telephone, as well as the possibility of attending group workshops or doing online work depending on what is best for you. We use Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT) to look at how our thoughts, feelings, and behaviours interact. From there we help you to make manageable positive changes to improve your mood, using evidence based techniques.

We work across Devon in local hospitals, GP surgeries (including Cheriton Bishop), over the phone and in other community settings. We also have a specialist team available if you are struggling with a long term health condition.

So if you, or someone you know, would find talking to someone helpful visit our website www.talkworks.dpt.nhs.uk for more information and to self-refer online, or call 0300 555 33 44.

West Country Embroiderers, Textiles & Mixed Media
Tuesday 2nd July and Tuesday 6th August
13.45 - 16.00 - Cheriton Bishop Village Hall

This month we welcome Gwen Applegate, one of our members, to demonstrate and for us all to 'have a go' at Hardanger. Hardanger embroidery or "Hardangersøm" is a form of embroidery traditionally worked with white thread on white even-weave linen or cloth, using counted thread and drawn thread work techniques. It is sometimes called white work embroidery and originated from a small town in western Norway.

The following month, we welcome back our 'Stitch Circus' led by Janet Grist and friends. One of the most unique elements of our group is that whatever your skill level, from novice to expert, everyone is welcome. At our AGM, Jenny Bone guided us through felting techniques and everyone made necklace beads or smaller coasters. Many of us had no idea how to felt but within an hour, were enthused converts to this art. Next time I shrink a jumper, I will have achieved a felted garment rather than a mini top! If you are interested in joining, our annual membership is only £25. Please contact me if you are interested, elainejclark@hotmail.co.uk or telephone me at home on 0164724218.

STOP PRESS.....

If you want a concessionary group ticket (£11.50), you need to contact me by the end of August as I will purchase them following our 3rd September meeting. This is a world-renowned exhibition with hundreds of stalls, and crafting materials from around the globe. If you want to purchase a seat on the coach and entrance ticket, please let me know or you can just reserve a coach seat. Please encourage friends or other groups you may belong to join us, we would like to fill the coach if possible.

If you are interested in joining, our annual membership is only £25. Please contact me if you are interested, elainejclark@hotmail.co.uk or telephone me at home on 0164724218.

The Parish Council respectfully asks motorists to refrain from parking on the Dunsford Road side of the Old Thatch leading to the junction. The number of cars parked along there is creating a hazard and it is feared that this may lead to an accident. Thank you for your co-operation.

Gardener's corner

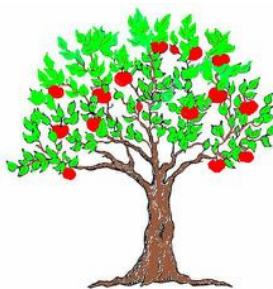

By July the garden should be brim full of colourful flowers and delicious salads and vegetables. It is good to keep cutting fresh flowers for the house or for presents, as this keeps the plants trim and productive. Likewise with salads, just keep taking a few fresh leaves every day and more will grow. Some perennial herbs, like chives and marjoram, are best cut right back now so that they make tasty new foliage for the rest of the summer.

In the greenhouse, keep pinching out side shoots of tomatoes and also the growth tip can be taken out now. The plants should be putting all their energy into producing delicious home grown tomatoes rather than new growth. Courgette plants can also have their growth tips taken out to encourage bushy plants and more fruit.

Orchard trees can have their fruit thinned out now, especially if the tree hasn't lost enough in the natural 'June drop'. It is better to have fewer, better quality fruits which can develop into apples and pears that are more appetising. Plum trees might need support for heavily laden branches as they are brittle and break very easily. All Prunus trees should be pruned in the summer if necessary, rather than the winter like other fruit trees. This is because the cut stems are prone to silver leaf disease and canker during the winter months. Some early flowering biennials like sweet rocket and wallflowers will have finished flowering by now. As they have come to the end of their lives, they can be removed, leaving room for fast growing, colourful annuals such as cosmos and zinnias, stocks and cornflowers. These might still need pinching out if they are getting tall and leggy in order to maximise flowering. You can still take cuttings of tender perennials such as salvias, penstemon and pelargoniums. These should root rapidly and grow to make good plants to give to friends or fill in gaps. Herbaceous geraniums will have finished flowering now and can be cut right back so that they produce a fresh flush of foliage. Prune wispy growth on early flowering clematis (Montana) and also on wisteria. Make sure you cut the long shoots of wisteria around the base of the plant. Wisteria are grafted plants and the root stock will soon overtake the less vigorous flowering graft if these suckers are allowed to grow. You will then find yourself with a wisteria which doesn't flower. In this case you need to take it out and plant a new one!

August in the garden

Keep picking flowers and enjoy them! Also dead head garden plants to prolong their flowering period. If you have alstroemerias, pull them from the base (as you would pull rhubarb) and they will regenerate with new stems from below the ground. If you want to collect seed however, don't forget to leave a few flowers to set seed (the best colour ones if you are organised enough to remember to mark which they are!)

Biennials such as wallflowers and foxgloves can be planted out now (but keep them well watered) to get well established before the winter.

Keep sowing salad leaves for a continual supply.

August is the time to propagate rosemary. Put cuttings into a pot of gravelly compost, taking off the lower foliage and the growing tip.

When your rambling roses have finished flowering, it is a good time to prune them, to try and keep them under control.

Mow wild flower meadows in August.

Leave the cut sward for a couple of days to wilt and allow seeds to drop, then rake it up and remove it. The wild flowers will do better if you don't mulch with cut grass as you need to keep fertility levels low.

News from Castle Drogo

Hi everyone

Where is the year going? I can't believe that it is June already. The weather has been pretty kind so far which means that we have had lots of lovely visitors and the builders have been able to make back some time they lost over winter. As I write this, we are looking at the end of June for the main scaffolding to start to be dismantled which will take up to 12 weeks. I'm hoping I haven't cursed us by putting that in writing!

We are gearing up ready for the summer holidays and looking forward to seeing many of you out and about either walking on the estate, taking part in the trail around the gardens or even perhaps at the open-air theatre performance of Noel Coward's Private Lives on Thursday 8 August. Tickets are available from The Plough in Torrington. We will also be hosting National Play Day out on Piddledown Common on Wednesday 7 August from 2pm to 4pm. This event is free so please do pop up for playtime - everyone is welcome.

Finally, you are warmly invited to join us on the morning of Tuesday 16 July for a small celebration event we are doing as part of our involvement in the National Lottery Heritage Fund project 'All the Moor Butterflies'. Our friends from Butterfly Conservation will be with us as we do some walks and talks to share the results of the project and the impact it has had for butterfly habitats on Dartmoor. Please come up to Piddledown Common between 10am and 1pm if you would like to join us. If the weather works against us, the event will take place on Thursday 18 July instead but keep fingers crossed for a lovely sunny day so plan A can go ahead.

Thanks all and very best wishes,

The two June walks were very enjoyable with the evening walks proving to be very popular and well attended.

IT IS PLEASING TO WELCOME SOME NEW FACES JOINING US.

July and August walks previously have been less well attended due to holidays and people being busy either in the garden or enjoying many of the other attractions available. Therefore the regular morning walks will be suspended for the next two months although it is intended to fit in at least one longer walk. The evening walks will continue however on the 3rd Wednesday of the month. All information will be updated both by email and on our FaceBook page.

School's out for Summer !

Are you about to embark on your first full time job or are you thinking of getting some work experience before starting university?

Starting your first job can be a daunting experience. This article aims to share with you what you need in order to work in the UK, what to expect from your employer and what your employer is legally obliged to provide.

Prerequisites for employment

In order to work in the UK you will need the following:

- A National Insurance number. You should have received an NI number just after your 16th birthday but if you haven't, log onto the www.gov.uk website and apply for one.
- A piece of ID to show you are eligible to work in the UK such as a Passport or Driving Licence or birth certificate.
- and usually a bank account into which your wages can be paid.

What to expect from a good employer

If you are lucky enough to find work with a good employer you can expect to receive during your first week:

* A proper induction programme which will include a tour of the premises, an outline of the fire drill and identification of the assembly points and the cloakrooms. You will be shown where to store your personal belongings and your general place of work

* Training

You will also receive training on the equipment you will be using such as the till, computer, software, etc.

* An understanding of the company's organisational structure and an introduction to your Line Manager. You should also receive a copy of the Company's manual explaining the company's ethos, e.g. 'Do no evil' (Facebook), 'Never knowingly undersold', 'we are an equal opportunities employer' as well as 2 copies of your Contract of Employment (one for your records and one to sign and return).

The Contract of Employment

Of course pay is just one part of your relationship with your employer, the other part is the terms and conditions in which you work. These are set out in your Contract of Employment which we will now turn to consider.

Before the Contracts of Employment Act, employment law was a bit of a mish mash. The Contracts of Employment Act (now the Employment Rights Act 1996 (ERA)) sought to bring together a collection of

- custom and practice
- case law, and
- government legislation

into one Act.

The nature of the Act is that it sets out the minimum requirements that an employer must provide to all employees.

A Contract of Employment

The important thing to note is that this is a legally binding agreement between your employer and yourself. It sets out your duties, responsibilities and employment conditions which must be adhered to unless both parties agree to change it. Make sure you store it safely, you never know when you may need it!

When you accept an offer of employment from any person, you are both entering into a legal contract which can be enforced through the courts. And most importantly, the ERA 1996 section 1(2) states, that the main terms of the contract must be in writing and provided to the employee within two months of the start of their employment.

- The names of parties entering into the agreement: Business Name and the Employee's name
- Commencement Date
- Duration of employment
- Job title
- Remuneration Package
- Place of Work
- Notice required to terminate employment
- Hours of Work
- Leave
- Pension
- Absence due to sickness
- Disciplinary and performance improvement procedure
- Grievances relating to your employment

Contract terms....

Contrary to common understanding, contracts do not need to be in writing to be enforceable.

So you may find that your employer does not issue you with a typed document setting out all your terms and conditions, it may be that:

- your terms are verbally agreed, or
- set out in the employee's handbook which must be made available to you.

Be mindful that some conditions are implied for example, you should know your employer is bound by law to pay you the minimum wage; that you have the necessary skills or qualifications for accepting the job ie if you accept a delivery job, you imply that you meet the legal requirements, in that you hold the appropriate driver's licence; and it is expected that you will not do anything dishonest nor steal from your employer.

In the event of a grievance at work

Recruiting and training staff costs money and time so the last thing an employer wants is for you to leave unnecessarily. However sometimes you do encounter problems in your workplace that can seem insurmountable and many employees just end up quitting.

However I urge you to first exhaust all avenues available before walking out on a job because once you walk out, there's no going back. And just think what it says about you to your next employer?

In the event that you do have problems in the workplace.....

Your first port of call should be to your immediate supervisor/Manager. If they are source of the problem

- a) Look at the grievance procedure as set out in your Contract of Employment
- b) Consult your work committee member or Union representative, if you have one
- c) Consult your HR representative, or even
- d) Speak directly to the Department Head.

Exhaust all means to solve the problem internally before going to any outside agency such as: ACAS, Citizen's Advice Bureau, Your last port of call may be to a solicitor specialising in workplace disputes.

If you are really dissatisfied, you always have the right to give the correct period of notice to terminate your Contract.

So what are your responsibilities and duties to your employer?

To do your best, to be loyal, industrious and above all reliable.

What are your employer's responsibilities to you?
To treat you fairly.

Good luck and enjoy the world of work!

Sources of Information

The internet is awash with help and guidance but I would particularly recommend the following websites:

- the government's own website has a lot of well written information
- the citizen's advice website, and
- Money Savings Expert's website.

“Stone Lane Gardens is a gem”

Joe Swift, The Times.

The Mythic Garden Sculpture Exhibition 2019 at Stone Lane Gardens, TQ13 8JU

As spring turns to summer Stone Lane Gardens is glorious in its array of verdant greens. Scattered throughout the arboretum and water gardens are this year's captivating ‘Mythic Garden’ sculptures. Over 20 artists from Devon, Hampshire, Surrey, Lincolnshire and Yorkshire are showing work as diverse as clouds suspended from trees to cast marble barn owls, in media ranging from ceramic to wood to stone. The exhibition is on from May until 31 October. The gardens are open all year round every day from 10am to 6pm. Dogs on leads welcome.

Stone Lane Gardens is an RHS Partner Garden near Chagford, Whiddon Down and Drewsteignton. For further details go to www.stonelanegardens.com. Find us on Trip Advisor.

Neighbourhood Watch

Speeding within the village and also accelerating and decelerating well within the 30 MPH zone is causing concern. This is particularly noticeable on the main C50 road, Yeoford Road, Church Lane and the road down from Four Cross Ways to the School. Vehicles include a number of cars, heavy lorries and some of the farm traffic. We would point out it is not all traffic. On the Yeoford Road cars parked on the road at the surgery can be the first thing to slow traffic down for instance.

Police in the past have carried out speed checks but seem always to pick a time later in the day when traffic is lighter. Perhaps the '20 is plenty' signs will have an impact when erected !! In the past we tried to get the police to train up villagers to use speeding apparatus and report to them the results. This was not taken up by the police so perhaps the time has come to have another go.

Yeoford Road 30 MPH sign being repositioned nears Coxland Farm where the painted SLOW sign has worn off could make a difference, plus a slow restriction detail installed on the road. Similarly move the 30 MPH sign up towards Four Cross Ways on the lane down to the school.

Our roads are narrow generally without verges or paths and vehicles must slow down before there is a very serious accident. Heavy vehicles seem to be getting larger and the lanes and roads in our area were never meant to be used by these.

Burglary

As this is being written I have received a report of a burglary in our area. Items stolen include diesel and the cans to put it in. So do lock up and safe guard your property.

Scams

There is no let up and they keep coming. Two people in our area have received the following: A phone call from a company warning of faults in lofts in the area. They are highly qualified in this particular 'field' they say. The phone was put down before the caller could say what the 'field' was.

The second scam was an email claiming to have come from BT which stated that from 12th June, BT will be in full compliance of EU's new copyright directive Article 13. It requests a follow up link to accept their new terms of service.

Both are scams so please do not click on anything, give passwords or information of any kind. Do not engage with any tradesman or professional you have not asked to call you or who is not known to you.

More on scams

Scammers are making phone calls saying they are the HMRC and that the person owes tax or other duty for a period in the distant past. Prosecution or legal proceedings are mentioned and the person can avoid this by making an immediate payment by bank transfer or iTunes gift card!! Genuine HMRC will always contact you by letter in the post first and may follow up with a phone call quoting a reference number on the letter. They will not demand immediate payment or payments via cards or iTunes gift cards.

Fake 'Talk Talk' emails are going around that state that the persons 'Talk Talk' account is in credit and they're owed a refund. As has been said before, do not click on the links or attachments in these fake emails and never respond to messages that ask for your personal or financial details.

Another scam which you may have heard of is from people claiming to be a police officer or bank official. People are told there is fraudulent activity at the bank and instructed they should withdraw money for safe keeping and assist the police. People may also be told their cards have been compromised and that money should be withdrawn for safe-keeping, or to purchase expensive items, or that they should hand over their cards to the 'police'. A courier can often visit a person's home to collect money, goods and cards. Ask yourself for whose safe-keeping? And who will benefit?

Just remember your Bank or the Police will never phone requesting personal information, asking you to withdraw or transfer money, or send a courier to your home to collect items.

Holiday time is here

Neighbourhood Watch hope you all stay safe and suggest you read again our first item on page 12 in the June 2019 Newsletter. It could help at this busy time in getting things done and preparing to be away.

At the same time Neighbourhood Watch Team recommend we are all observant, vigilant and keep our eyes open when out and about.

A useful thought 'Today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday and all is well'
Have a great holiday.

Journeying through the year

It feels that we are moving quickly through this year. We are now past the halfway point and journeying into the last half of the year. There is also a strong sense of people moving through life. We recognise the benefits of both reaching our destination and the process of getting there. They both have a profound effect on who we are. Hopefully, it is a positive process, although the same is also true in reverse. We can see how we ended up in a worse place through a series of bad choices. There is nothing new in this wisdom; historically people have travelled to discover new worlds, set off on an expedition to increase their knowledge or made a pilgrimage to a holy place. Universally, it is not always the destination that is important but rather how we adapt to the task in hand. This brings many positive benefits and is a trusted and acknowledged way of change. It is no wonder that it keeps recurring like a common theme throughout our history. If we need any proof of this there are several television shows that are called ‘a pilgrimage’ in which a celebrity or celebrities journey to significant destinations. Added to that there are television shows that have the same theme of people travelling to a destination and we get to watch them navigate both the joys and the trials that involves. A clue to this is the word journey or a mode of transport in the title for example ‘great railway journeys of the world’. It is not all about where you go but how you get there. As I watch probably the most watched programme where people who really cannot dance discover they had talent that they had not realised, they use the word ‘journey’ so many times it is referred to as the J word!

Driving a car is an important example. As we drive, the windscreen is large to give the clearest view of the road ahead. We need to be able to navigate and avoid danger to keep travelling safely. But there are also mirrors to see both behind and beside. By contrast, these are small lenses that look back to where we have come from. If we concentrate on what lies behind we will more than likely miss something obvious in front of us. If we ignore what is behind and concentrate on what is ahead we run the risk of missing something coming quickly to overtake or overrun us. We need to focus on both in the right amounts, that is what is so difficult, getting the right balance.

We find that God is present in both the past and in the future. We can draw confidence that God travels with us. We can learn to use past experience to give confidence, equally we can draw a line in our past and find both forgiveness and guidance into a new future. The challenge is to accept we are on a journey and how best we navigate that journey. I find God a faithful companion who both helps and encourages us.

Churchwarden's Ramblings

This edition of the Ramblings is largely concerned with the church organ. The organ was installed at St Mary's in 1950-51 and at that time positioned in the Lady Chapel, and was moved to its present position in 1965. It has been maintained and is tuned each year but the organ builder we use is finding that it needs increasing amounts of work done each year as parts wear out and the pneumatic action becomes more unreliable.

The PCC has taken advice and has decided to refurbish the organ and to replace the pneumatic action from the keys with an electric action, the total cost of the works is likely to exceed £29,000. This is a considerable amount of money and the decision has not been taken lightly; we will be seeking grant aid but will also rely on local fundraising and support to ensure that the organ will still be playable and be at St Mary's for another 67 years.

We will launch our major fund-raising on the evening of Saturday 14th September when Andrew Millington and Gordon Pike have kindly offered to perform an organ and choral recital, this will be a wonderful opportunity to hear good music played on a very fine instrument. Andrew is the former director of music at Exeter Cathedral.

Tickets are priced at £10 which includes a glass of wine and some delicious eats at the end of the evening. Please contact Juliet to book your tickets on 24415 or email Juliet@venbridge.plus.com

On Saturday 20th July our own Occasional Choir is holding a concert, combined with an open tower and tea. The Tower will be open from 2.30 and the Choir will start the concert at around 4.45. During the afternoon we will take some of the side panels off the organ so that you will be able to see the workings. We also invite anyone who plays a musical instrument to come along and have a go at playing it, one of our organists will be there to guide you.

We look forward to seeing you at one of our events later on this year.

DO YOU RUN A CLUB, GROUP OR ACTIVITY?

Invest In Yourself – Health and Wellbeing Day: your chance to let people know what you do!

The Cheriton Bishop and Teign Valley Practice Patients Participation Group (PPG) and the Surgery will be holding an Open Day Event at Cheriton Bishop Village Hall:

Invest in Yourself – Health and Wellbeing Day Saturday 21st of September from 10.00am to 2.30pm

We would like to get clubs, groups and classes to come along to the day to demonstrate and promote their activities to prospective participants. Throughout the area we have an impressive range of group activities including photography, gardening and horticulture (including the use of raised beds for a spot of easy gardening), embroidery, organised walks, bowling, fitness classes and many more. For younger folk there are the likes of Beavers, Scouts, and Baby and Toddler Groups.

This is your chance to promote your group or activity, perhaps get new members or just talk to people about what you do.

To register an expression of interest to book a table on the day please contact Steve Colderick at colderick@btinternet.com

The deadline for registering an expression of interest is Monday 5th of August, and the Event Committee will notify successful applicants by Friday 16th of August. On the day we wish to present a wide range of activities and groups, and also have representation across the Cheriton Bishop and Teign Valley area, so regrettably we may not have room to offer a stand to everyone registering an expression of interest. If you would like any further information please contact Steve Colderick at the e-mail address above.

Holy Trinity, Yeoford

Thy Kingdom Come initiative in Yeoford ended at Pentecost when the children at the Family Service harvested the fish prayers caught in the net over the previous 10 days from The Messy Church, the congregation, Coffee Company and the Prayer group. We then offered the prayers up singing the Taize chant “ O Lord, Hear My Prayer.”

The Songs of Praise usually held in July will be on 11th August this year, more detail in the next issue. Cafe Company on Mondays from 9-30 till 11am at the Church. We will be taking a break for the summer from 17th July. Restart in September.

The Book Sale 2019 on Friday 8th and Saturday 9th November

Books may be left after the summer school holidays at South Orchard, Cheriton Bishop. The Book Sale will be held in Cheriton Bishop village hall on the evening of Friday 8th November and between 10 and noon on Saturday 9th November 2019.

For new comers, this is a long standing event patronized by that small select band of readers of any printed matter, the wider the range the best pleased we all are. Anything is acceptable and children's books especially welcome.

Even a power cut in 2018 did not deter the determined, mobile phone torches and a range of other items were used to illuminate the printed matter. A pity no-one thought to photograph this remarkable episode in the history of the book sale. We had had lightning strikes, people falling through the wooden floor of the chapel when it was held there and doubtless there are other calamities we have forgotten.

As usual the proceeds stay within the parish and the choice has already been made. More on that in future newsletters. November seems a long way away as I type this on the longest day.
